Lesbians chemically castrate 11-year old boy they adopted

"Lesbians adopting little boys only to castrate them? Six years ago, a lesbian couple in California thought it would be appropriate to let their child decide that he wanted gender reassignment surgery." reports JoeForAmerica and DailyMail.

"Pauline Moreno and Debra Lobel's reasoning was that children with 'gender identity disorder' forced to postpone transitioning could face a higher risk of suicide, [that's a lie] they flat out adopted for the express purpose of castration and we all know it. Let's call this what it is: Disfiguring, mutilating, chemically castrating a boy – and hoping to get a girl out of it. It gets worse...

"Thomas' transition into a make-pretend girl began at age eight. His guardians inflicted hormone suppressants to prevent him from developing a male voice, broad shoulders, and facial hair. If this doesn't qualify as child abuse, the statutes need to be rewritten.

"The real sad fact is, you can find a doctor to do just about anything for money – we've seen plenty of disasters from ill-advised contemporary plastic surgery – and trying to change little boys into girls is no different: Where there's money and an agenda – a doctor will be found.

"As if that alone was not obnoxious enough, these two sociopaths say they let him decide who he was sexually at the ripe old age of 3....

"Wake up! What are we doing to our children? Where are the Christians of America? How different is this from the WWII experiments on humans we all agreed could NEVER LET HAPPEN AGAIN? Fact is, you cannot change a boy into a girl and vice-versa – end of story. Any physician, biologist or scientist who isn't completely mad will tell you that – yet we allow these horrors to happen?"

[Dr. Chaps' comment: It is child abuse, plain and simple, for lesbians to chemically castrate an 11-year old boy, and the boy should be seized by Child Protective Services and given to Christian parents who will care for him and affirm his male identity as God does and always has.]

After School "Satan Clubs" target Elementary Children

While the IRS has blocked Christians conservative groups from tax-exempt status,

"...Leftist groups like the Satan club got fast tracked," reports Judicial Watch.

"The principle goal of establishing the Satan clubs in public schools throughout Washington State appears to be to counter existing enterprises operated by a Christian-based group. Documents obtained by Judicial Watch include the process of establishing an after-school Satan club at Point Defiance Elementary in Tacoma. The entity behind the club is a nonprofit called Reason Alliance, which is based in Somerville, Massachusetts, and operates in Washington State as the Satanic Temple of Seattle.

"Its director, Lilith X. Starr, established the Point Defiance Elementary Satanic club, the records show. In its application the club states that its purpose is 'character development' and that adult instructors are vetted by the Satanic Temple's 'Executive Ministry.'

"Children ages 5-12 will develop basic critical reasoning, character qualities, problem solving and creative expression, according to the Satanic Temple filings included in the documents. The club logo is a pencil with devil's horns. Records obtained by Judicial Watch from the Treasury Department show that the Satanic cult applied for tax-exempt status on October 21, 2014 and received it on October 31, 2014.

"The parent permission forms ask for the name of the child's church and pastor, the records show. They also reveal that Starr, the Seattle Satanic Temple director, told Tacoma School District Superintendent Carla Santorno that the clubs are led by 'caring Satanists' and each child receives a membership card.

"Starr also tells the superintendent that the effort to establish after-school Satan clubs in Tacoma schools is in direct response to the Christian-based Good News Clubs operating in campuses throughout the district. This ignited concern among some Tacoma district officials, the records show. In one electronic mail exchange, Tacoma Schools official Andrea O-Brien-Henley sends colleague Paul Koch a citation from the Satanic Temple's website noting that the temple only wants to establish after-school Satan clubs in school districts with Christian Good News Clubs."

[Dr. Chaps' comment: Copypcat non-religions like Satanism are only designed to silence Christian groups by legal scare tactics, as proven by their intent to only organize in schools with Christian clubs. Satanism is not a religion, it is simply vocal opposition to Christianity. Without their opposition to the God of the Bible, Satanists would have no reason to exist.]
